Ewan Gunn – Global Brand Ambassador – Dewar's Scotch Whiskies

From malting and mashing to distilling and bottling, Ewan Gunn lends his unique understanding of the Scotch whisky production process to the Dewar's brand. A native Scotsman, Ewan began his career at the Springbank Distillery and William Cadenhead Ltd. learning hands-on the intricacies of the spirit that only its maker can understand.

After two months immersed in the art and craft of Scotch whisky creation, the graduate of Strathclyde University in Glasgow took sole responsibility for worldwide sales and marketing at William Cadenhead. An avid traveler and accomplished linguist, Ewan also delivered lectures and conducted tastings in English, German and French for global connoisseurs and journalists.

Ewan went on to Angus Dundee Distillers Plc. where he continued his extensive traveling, working to develop new and emerging markets in the Middle East, Central and Eastern Europe and to maintain and grow markets in Western Europe.

As USA Brand Ambassador for John Dewar and Sons Ltd., Ewan explored a new continent. He toured the USA, sharing his comprehensive knowledge of Scotch whisky. Enthusiasts and industry professionals across the country have enjoyed his Scotch whisky education lectures and tastings. Participants in Ewan's seminars become connoisseurs of Scotch whisky – from its history and production, to the art of blending and the unique characteristics of the Dewar's brand.

As Global Brand Ambassador for John Dewar and Sons Ltd., Ewan continues his work in the USA whilst also now dealing with other export markets around the world. Although Ewan is based out of Glasgow, Scotland he spends half his time in the USA, as it is the largest export market for Dewar's Scotch Whisky.
